SEARCHING FOR CAPPIE

Susanna Isern Benedetta Sala

The Capybara family splashes about in the great swamp.
Mommy and Daddy go for a dunk, while Grandpa takes a nap.
Cappie is the youngest and the most rambunctious. Sometimes she annoys her big brother, Coco, by swiping his favorite sticks.

One morning, Mommy Capybara says, “Today we’re going to visit your cousins at their swamp on the other side of the mountain.”

Coco and Cappie jump for joy and start packing their things for the trip.

The journey to the other side of the mountain is long, and Daddy Capybara warns the little ones, “We’ll walk single file, and we have to make sure we don’t get separated. If someone gets lost, it’s best they stop right where they are and stay put.”

The Capybara family sets off. Cappie walks the slowest, so she brings up the rear.

It's the first time she's ever left their swamp, and she's very curious about everything. She's having a grand time searching for pebbles, inspecting plants, and chattering with the squirrels...

Suddenly, the biggest butterfly Cappie has ever seen flutters past. The little capybara is fascinated. Without stopping to think, she scampers off after it.

Big brother Coco realizes he hasn't heard the pitter patter of Cappie's little feet walking behind him for several minutes. So he turns around and...

Cappie?

Cappie?

"Mommy, I don't see Cappie anywhere!"
"What do you mean you don't see her?"

Everyone is very worried.

"We'll split up to search for her and meet back here in a few minutes," Grandpa says.
